

DevOps Engineer

City: Cluj-Napoca

Role: Professional/Senior

Recruiter name: Eliza Ciuciui

Recruiter email: eliza.ciuciui@betterask.erni

Description

Are you looking for new opportunities? Do you want to grow up in your career? This is your offer! As part of the ERNI team you will be working with Swiss and German customers operating in domains such as finance, security, medical and more. Given the wide spectrum of projects, the technologies used will also be varied, enabling you to use your desktop, backend, frontend and database skills to the maximum. So, when are you going to join us?

Responsibilities

- Be involved in design and development as a member of a self-organized agile team
- Develop and maintain software programs according to set coding standards
- Participation on process improvements and technology decisions
- Problem fixing, debugging, writing unit tests
- Estimate duration of programming and unit testing phase
- Doing effective and precise code reviews
- Coach less experienced developers
- Take responsibility for own decisions and actions

Job requirements

Experience with all below are required: - Cloud infrastructure for one major provider eg: AWS, Azure, Google Cloud - At least one CI tool - CircleCI, Travis, etc - At least one script language like python or bash - Solid understanding OS-level concepts - Managing Linux servers - Managing / deploying Docker containers - Kubernetes - Container / distributed application logging - Container / distributed application security - Knowledge about networking, server security, common protocols

Benefits

Opportunity for self-improvement and career growth Internal & external software development education and trainings (certifications)

Individual access to e-Learning Platforms to develop both technical and soft skill with LinkedIn Learning Occasional business trips within Europe Private medical services at Medlife Flexible working time 22 days holiday / year + 1 extra day of holiday for every year working at the company (up to 25) Meal Tickets Referral bonus